The 12th Symposium on Mesozoic Terrestrial Ecosystems

INVITATION

The Organizing Committee, representing the relevant governmental agencies and scientific institutions, cordially invite you to participate in the “12th Symposium on Mesozoic Terrestrial Ecosystems” held in Shenyang, China in August 16-20, 2015.

Mesozoic (252-66 Ma), a very important era in Earth history, witnessed the breakup of the Pangaea, the geo-/bio- events across the Triassic/Jurassic, the global warming Cretaceous, and the K-Pg boundary, as well as the biodiversity. The study of Mesozoic terrestrial ecosystems is very significant for exploring the origin and early evolution of birds, mammals and angiosperms, and the reason for the dinosaur extinction. The study would also be beneficial for searching the fossil fuels (oil, coal, etc.) and protections of the fossils and other natural heritages in the world.

China, especially the Northeast China, is rich in Mesozoic geo- and biological records, including the well-known Early Cretaceous Jehol biota and Jurassic Yanliao biota, which have greatly contributed to the study of the origin and evolution of Mesozoic organisms. They have provided fresh knowledge to scientists for better understanding of the terrestrial ecosystems in deep time, and put forward also the fossil protection efforts.

MTE-12 will provide an excellent opportunity for geoscientists in multidiscipline to discuss the Mesozoic terrestrial ecosystems, followed by the field excursions to the western Liaoning, including Beipiao (the sites of Sinosauripteryx, and the earliest known angiosperm Archaeofructus) and Jianchang (the site of the oldest known feathered dinosaur Achiornis), to give a memorable experience on the paleoecosystem records. In the meantime, the 3rd Int'l Workshop of IGCP 608 will be held in Shenyang, accompanied with the MTE-12.

Please join us in the summer of 2015 for the MTE-12 in the historical city of Shenyang, NE China for a most exciting scientific gathering. We hope to see you all at the Opening Ceremony!

SYMPOSIUM VENUE AND TRANSPORTATION

The MTE-12 will be held in Liaoning Mansion Hotel in Shenyang, Liaoning Province. Liaoning Province has fantastic historical culture, as well as the amazing geoscientific resources, particularly, its splendid Early Cretaceous Jehol biota and Jurassic Yanliao biota greatly contributed to the study of the origin and evolution of Mesozoic organisms.

Shenyang is the capital city of Liaoning Province, and the largest city in Northeast China. August is a pleasant season in Shenyang. The temperature varies approximately from 20°C to 30°C with occasional rains.

The Liaoning Mansion Hotel, is in downtown of the city, about 25 km from the Shenyang International Airport, and about 5 km from the Shenyang-Bei (North Shenyang) Railway Station connected by subway.

The Shenyang International Airport has air-lines directly to Frankfurt, Vancouver, Singapore, Tokyo, Osaka, Seoul, Hong Kong, Macau, Taipei, etc. However, we suggest that the participants would be via Beijing, Shanghai or Guangzhou to transfer. The air-lines of Beijing-Shenyang have more than 10 flights for each day, and Shanghai or Guangzhou to Shenyang have several flights for each day.

The arrival date is suggested on Aug.15, and the departure date from Shenyang is suggested on Aug.21. The free bus or car services will be arranged by the symposium secretariat in the airport (Hotel) for your getting (leaving) to (from) the Liaoning Mansion Hotel .

International symposium on “Cretaceous ecosystems and their responses to palaeo- environmental changes in Asia and the western Pacific”

-The 3rd Symposium of the International Geosciences Program IGCP 608

August 16-20, 2015, Shenyang, Liaoning, China

Second Circular

Organizers:

China University of Geosciences (Beijing)

Shenyang Normal University/ Paleontological Museum of Liaoning

GENERAL INFORMATION

According to the arrangement/plan of the IGCP 608 program, the 3rd international symposium of IGCP 608 will be held in Shenyang Normal University/ Paleontological Museum of Liaoning, Shenyang, China. The symposium aims to create an opportunity to discuss the Cretaceous ecosystems and their responses to paleoenvironmental changes in Asia and the western Pacific and based upon the studies of palaeontology, palaeoecology, stratigraphy and sedimentology.

The symposium will be held together with the 12th MTE. It includes three days of oral and poster presentations. It is followed by regular sessions on palaeoenvironments, stratigraphy, paleontology and tectonics. In regular sessions there will be a variety of talks and posters on regional geology, stratigraphy, vertebrate and invertebrate fossil faunas and environments in the eastern part of the Asian continent during Jurassic-Cretaceous.

A post-symposium field excursion will be organized to observe the Mesozoic palaeontology and geology in Liaoning, which contain abundant mega- and micro-fossils. In a two-days field excursion, we will visit some important sites for the Jurassic and Cretaceous biota, stratigraphy, and depositional environments in Liaoning.

The organizing and scientific committees warmly welcome you in Shenyang, for the IGCP 608 symposium, hosted by China University of Geosciences (Beijing) and Shenyang Normal University/ Paleontological Museum of Liaoning.
